Sunday, April 23

The whole encounter on the road to Emmaus gives us a wonderful model for the daily prayer we need during these trying times. First the disciples encounter Jesus as a stranger. We need to open the scriptures, daily, as strange as they might seem, and begin to read. Secondly, the disciples listen to Jesus explain the scriptures. As you read the scriptures, ask the Lord to help you understand them, how they apply to his life, and how they can apply to yours. Next, the disciples share their burdens with Jesus. So too, share with the Lord your fears and temptations, angers and confusion. But then, listen to the Lord some more, allow him to share his wisdom. Go back to the scriptures, look for guidance, look for hope. Every passage of Scripture in some way points to Him. You don't have to have a degree in Scripture in order to pray with Scripture and encounter the Lord through the Scriptures. So give it a shot. These days, what do you have better to do? As you grow in the practice of prayer, you will notice the Lord is with you, His light is shining in your life now, he's been with you all this time.

So, don't be afraid, these days of uncertainties to seek that encounter with the Lord, to turn off the television, especially to skip the fearmongering from the mainstream media, to seek that heart changing, faith igniting encounter with the Risen Lord Jesus in prayer, that the light of the Resurrection may banish all sadness and shadow in your life for the glory of God and salvation of souls.

Domingo 23 de Abril

El corresponsable cristiano se acerca a la vida con una "visión pascual" arraigada en la gratitud por la salvación que nuestro Señor ha ganado para nosotros a través de Su muerte y Resurrección. Las lecturas de hoy en este Domingo de la Divina Misericordia nos enseñan cómo se desarrolla este enfoque en la vida diaria y nos recuerdan que podemos tener plena confianza en la misericordia de Dios para guiarnos, paso a paso, al cielo. Ciertamente, es un desafío vivir para el cielo cuando las cosas de la tierra (estrés laboral, crisis familiares, problemas de salud, conflictos políticos) se vislumbran en el horizonte. Podemos encontrarnos volviéndonos cínicos como el Apóstol, Tomás, en nuestro pasaje del Evangelio de hoy, hasta que tuvo un encuentro con el Salvador misericordioso. Todos recordamos la famosa línea de Tomás, quien no estuvo presente con los otros Apóstoles durante la primera aparición de Jesús después de la Resurrección. Abatido por los acontecimientos de los últimos días, Thomas se niega a creer que los demás hayan "visto al Señor" como afirman. Thomas testarudamente declara que no creerá su historia acerca del Señor a menos que pusiera su dedo en las marcas de los clavos y su mano en Su costado. Sin embargo, estas dudas no repelieron a nuestro Señor. De hecho, lo atrajeron a Tomás de una manera extraordinaria. Nuestro Señor misericordioso vio que debajo de la arrogancia en la declaración de Tomás había dolor y desilusión. Nuestro Señor es la misericordia misma. Y así Él no condenó a Tomás, sino que calmó sus dudas y temores, y permitió que Tomás realmente tocara esas Sagradas Llagas. Que maravillosa gracia. Cuando nos sentimos tentados a ceder a las dudas sobre nuestra fe por cualquier motivo, todo lo que necesitamos hacer es buscar al Señor — en la oración, en los sacramentos, a través del aliento de nuestras comunidades cristianas— y tal como lo hizo con Tomás, nuestro El Señor misericordiosamente restaurará nuestra visión pascual y nos llenará de su alegría y paz.
